PM MEETS WITH BP IN LONDON

As the twelve day overseas trip of the Trinidad and Tobago delegation led by Prime Minister Rowley continues, the team met today (Saturday 7th May, 2016) with British Petroleum (BP).

The meeting was held at the BP headquarters located at St James' Square London.

Accompanying Prime Minister Rowley were Minister in the Office of the Prime Minister Stuart Young and Professor Ken Julien while BP was represented by Group Chief Executive Officer of British Petroleum Mr Bob Dudley and Regional President Mr Norman Christie.

The Trinidad and Tobago delegation leaves London tomorrow (Sunday 8th May, 2016) for Ghana where they will be joined by members of Trinidad and Tobago's business community.
